Your hand I take in mine, Laora,

Ruffle thy soul's calm tide. But thou shouldst be once more, Laura, As full of joy and song,

As any feathered minstrel is, That sings the whole day long. And smiles as bright as you blue sky, Should play upon thy face, And from that sad, pale cheek of thine Be driven sorrow's trace.

I remember well the time, Laura, When thy young heart with dreams Of love was full, and thy glad soul Leapt high beneath the beams That shone from his dark eyes. But now Those dreams from thee have fled, And the hopes that made thy life a joy Are withered, pale, and dead.

I never look at thee, Laura, But with a voicelesa prayer That God will compass thee about With His protecting care. And if in this lorn life of thine, On Him thou wilt depend; Be sure that in thine hour of need Thou wilt not lack a friend. WALLACE GRUELLE.

There seems to us to be a fascination about ghost stories, weird and unaccountable, like that with which the serpent charms its viction; it binds a listener with a spell, painful to his senses, but so potent that he cannot break away.

We can never help shuddering when we see a group of children gathered around some careless nurse, or too indulgent grandmother, and listening as if life depended on hearing every word, to horthe repose of the grave, to go on earthly missions of love or revenge, as the case may be. All the ghostly particulars are The Portland (Jay county) Journal dwelt upon, till the faces so rosy an hour before are deadly pale; bright eyes are "There is at this time more "chill and set in a fixed stare of awe and terror, and white line are half negreted in the wild as white lips are half parted in the wild eagerness to learn more. FARRELL'S GENUINE ARABIAN LINIMENT is a most extraordinary medicine. the truth of which is placed beyond doubt by the vast sales of the arcicle and the many cures be ing early performed by it, which previously bad resisted all other medicines and the skill of the best physicians in the world. It is composed of balsams, extracts and gnms peculiar to Arabiapossessing in a concentrated form, all their stimulating, anodyne, penetrating, anchous, and revulsive properties, and the same which, ages ago. were used by the "Sons of the Desert." with such miraculous success, in curing the diseases of man and heast.

Read the following remarkable cure, which of it self swould place H G Farrell's Arabian Liniment far beyond any similar remedy.

Mr. H. G. Farrell-Dear Sir: Actuated by a sense of grate ulness. I submit the following as an instance of the mulity of your great medicine My child, three years old, was suddenly attacked with a terrible disease, which in less than six hours prostrated it to total helplessuess. The limbs became so rigid that not a joint could be bent; the flesh turned black and cold and entirely deprived of feeling; the eyes fixed, and partially closed and altogether bling, following this was deafness to nil sounds; the spine became conrracted and so curved that when lying on its back, the head and heels only touched. Indeed, the chile presented every appearance of being dead. Immediately on the attack, the family physician was called in, and for three weeks he labored to restore it to feeling, but all in vain, although it was idistered a dezen times and various rubelarient Limments applied. A consultation of physicinns was then held, but to no purpose, the case was then brought before the Medical Society, bu unthing could be suggested which had not already heen done, and the doctor then told me he could do nothing more. We then commenced applying your Limine in freely over the entire length of the spine, and you may imagine a parent's joy, when, after a lew applications, returning animawhen, after a few applications, returning animation was apparent, and it rapidly recovered with

Women's Rights.

Our citizens, last week, were enlightened by a lecture from one of those travelling female crators, who claim for their sex the right of suffrage and all other masculine rights. There was but one opinion of the lecture, on the part of the audience-that it was the most intolerable tissue of silliness and vulgarity, approaching obscenity, that they ev-
